DIVISION III BASEBALL STATE TOURNAMENT PREVIEW

If they are building a case to start a double elimination state tournament in D-III, the teams sure did a great job of proving their point this season. There are a lot of teams that can win the tournament this year, but with the one-and-done format still in place in D-III, a handful of good teams will end their season early in the state tournament. The defending champ is Fountain Hills, which starts Andrew Bryniarski, who was tied for the state lead in home runs with 10. But Fountain Hills is facing a potential second round matchup against No. 9 seed Chino Valley, the team Fountain Hills beat in the state semifinals last year and lost to on April 30.

The No. 1 seed this season went to Bisbee, coached by the veteran Mike Frosco, who won titles in 2008 and 1993. If Bisbee and Fountain Hills win their second round games, both teams will meet in the quarterfinals. Fountain Hills, the No. 8 seed, beat Bisbee 2-0 during the regular season. But there are plenty of other teams that can make a postseason run. One of them is No. 6 seed Payson, which lost a handful of close games to the higher ranked teams in the state this year. One team that is to be peaking at the right time is Northwest Christian, which has won its past 15 games and has the arms on the mound to carry the team to a title. Strap in D-III teams. The road ahead is difficult.

DIVISION IV BASEBALL STATE TOURNAMENT PREVIEW

The grieving over the loss of its esteemed assistant coach, Ryan Hanson, and playing without a player who suffered severe head injuries and other players who suffered on-the-field injuries has galvanized Desert Christian.

But how the Division IV defending champ managed to finish its power ranking season undefeated and earn the No. 1 seed at state despite the raw emotions is difficult to comprehend. Somehow Desert Christian found ways to move forward, beginning with the team's coaches' ability to deal with crises.

At one point in the season, Desert Christian also was down to 10 players, but the team rallied around each other to continue to make their families and community proud. They need each other now more than ever, including assistant coach Mike Hanson, Ryan's father.

Mike has been an assistant at Desert Christian and assumed the duties of his son.

The 34-year-old Ryan, a well-known coach in the Tucson baseball community, died unexpectedly on April 2. The player who suffered the head injuries during an ATV accident is at home and recovering, but it's not known if he will play again this season.

The only senior on the team, Daulton Hopkins, suffered an ankle sprain on April 9 and hasn't played since. That's a lot of hardships for a team, especially a high school team, to deal with, but Desert Christian is healing emotionally and physically the best it can.

"I am very proud of how the players have responded," Desert Christian coach Grant Hopkins said.

Desert Christian was blessed with not only mature but also talented players this season.

The defending champ returned eight starters to a lineup that is hitting .465 as a team this season. The team also added a transfer, sophomore Brett Grabosch (.524 ave.), and a couple of talented freshmen, Josh Repavich (.318 ave.) and Ethan Malis (.440 ave.).

The strength of this year's team has been pitching and defense, according to Hopkins. The 25-2 team has an ERA just under 2.00 and starts one of the state's better dual players, junior Zach Malis (9-1, 1.49 ERA).

Malis also leads the team in hitting with a gaudy .659 batting average. Desert Christian also starts another ace, junior Andrew Edwards, who has struck out 93 batters in 43 2/3 innings.

With numbers like those it's easy to understand why Desert Christian hasn't lost to an Arizona team this season. As one of the top eight seeds in the tournament, Desert Christian earned a first round bye in the state tournament.

It will play the winner of the Pima-Bagdad first round matchup in the second round. It's been a challenging season off the field for Desert Christian, but the strong will of this team has helped it thrive.
