AIA

In September, the Arizona Interscholastic Association officially sanctioned a state tournament for robotics, joining 27 other AIA sports/activities that already compete for state titles. The interest for robotics and STEM initiatives is growing at Arizona high schools and the AIA is proud to provide an opportunity for these teams to compete in a fun and exciting atmosphere.

The first high school robotics season in Arizona will start during the spring season and teams will compete in regional events run by FIRST, a non-profit organization that organizes robotic events internationally. The top 30 teams from the regionals will then advance to the May 23 state tournament at the Prescott Valley Events Center.

There are currently 49 high schools that have robotics teams in Arizona. The AIA's goal is to double that number of teams by May 2016. If you are interested in supporting the AIA robotics program and state tournament as a corporate partner, please contact AIA Sports Properties at 602-385-3828 or facosta@aia365.com.

Div. III Boys Basketball: Section III Sending Strong Contenders

By Jose Garcia
AZPreps365.com

Section III served up the toughest boys basketball section in Division III this season.

It's not shocking news, however. The teams in this section tend not to exit the postseason early, and that was the case last year when section mates Cortez and Valley Christian played for the D-III title.

Valley Christian, a five-time state champ under coach Greg Haagsma, defeated Cortez 64-53 in last year's D-III title tilt. Valley Christian won its first meeting with Cortez this season, but Cortez finally conquered Valley Christian, defeating the defending D-III champ in the sectional final on Valentine's Day.

With 20-plus per game scorers Trevan Newman and Christian Hakilimali, No. 2 seed Cortez figures to break the hearts of some state tournament opponents. The same can be said about No. 8 seed Valley Christian and likely two more Section III teams, No. 12 Fountain Hills and No. 11 Scottsdale Christian.

"We do have a tough section, and it's good to play those guys because it gets us ready to for the post-season," said Cortez coach Tariq James, a Cortez alum who guided his program to its first state title game last season.

Section III is loaded, but the team that garnered the No. 1 seed in this tournament is Blue Ridge, which upset the Section IV favorite in the sectional tournament, Snowflake.

Blue Ridge wasn't without its challenges this season, though. The team faced a slew of off the court issues, including injuries, forcing the team to start 11 different players during the season.

But that helped players gain valuable experience, a reason why Blue Ridge is peaking at the right time. Blue Ridge coach Adam Reeck added that the contributions of first-year assistant Darryl Suber, who served as Mogollon's head coach for six seasons, also have been invaluable.

"We're playing our best basketball right now, and that is what every team is after at this point in the season" Reeck said. "To accomplish that is really rewarding, because there's so much on the line with every game."

Despite the sectional semifinal loss, Snowflake still managed to draw a first round bye and the No. 7 seed thanks in part to its 25-3 overall record.

Snowflake has four players, juniors Jordan Gardner, Kegan Bjornn and Kurt Wood and senior Travis Flake, averaging double figures in points. Wood is averaging a team-high 7.6 assists per game.

"Snowflake is a feisty team that loves to run the ball and pressure the ball," James said.

Like Blue Ridge, Combs, the No. 4 seed, overcame its share of obstacles this season.

It had to replace three key players off of last year's team, including two starters, and returner Shadon Brooks, the team's best perimeter defender and ball handler, who moved to Texas before the season started. The team also suffered a confidence crushing buzzer beater defeat in the Independence Tournament and home loss to D-II Queen Creek.

But after the Queen Creek loss, Combs responded by winning 24 in a row. Senior forward Carter Aby (four triple doubles) has emerged as the team's MVP and is leading the state in blocks, 5.5 per game, and rebounds, 14.3 per game.

Sophomore Clayton McCarthy, senior Drew Johnson and senior Nathaniel Duhaney have also each turned in key performances this year for Combs (26-4). The No. 3 seed went to Chinle (21-10), which has three players averaging double figures in points, senior Jimiacan Ranger, Chritristen Blacksheep and Sooner Brady.

Div. III Girls Basketball: VCHS in Same Spot, But Can It Finish This Year

By Jose Garcia
AZPreps365.com

Valley Christian finished the regular season undefeated and grabbed the No. 1 seed in the Division III girls basketball state tournament for the second consecutive year.

So another state title game tournament appearance at Glendale's Gila River Arena must be in store for the Chandler squad. Valley Christian's team is young, but it isn't naïve.

It knows very well that that nothing in life is guaranteed, a lesson the program learned the hard way last year, when it scored a season low 36 points in the D-III title game. Maybe it was the nerves or overconfidence or a little of both, but the heavy favorite lost the 2013-14 title game to Fountain Hills, which has lost its two regular season games last year to Valley Christian, 55-46 and 58-46.

Valley Christian picked the wrong night to have its worst shooting performance of the year in the 51-36 loss, but give Fountain Hills credit for shooting the ball well that day. Is Valley Christian ready to atone for last year's championship downer?

The answer to that D-III question and others will be answered as soon as the state tournament tips off Feb. 18. Valley Christian won its sectional tournament to claim one of the top-8 seeds and first round bye.

It'll play its first game Feb. 21 against the winner of the Sedona Red Rock-Many Farms first round matchup. It's 29-0, but Valley Christian has been tested this season.

Every starter on the team has missed time on the court due to injury, including last year's leading scorer Bethany Wolph, who hasn't played much this season. The team has played only one game at full-strength, during the third game of its season.

The team still managed to pull off impressive victories against Division I Mesquite and in the title games of the Flagstaff Pepsi and Valley Christian tournaments. It's closest game of the season came during its tournament, when Valley Christian edged Holbrook 58-56.

Holbrook earned the No. 7 seed in the state tournament, and, if it advances, wouldn't face Valley Christian until the championship game. Holbrook has probably played the toughest schedule in the D-III this year, losing 7 of its 8 games to the top-3 seeds in the state tournament, Valley Christian, Winslow and Page.

Holbrook tends to lack height but not grit. The team is known for its half court trap and work ethic.

This year, Holbrook also has four seniors who have played on varsity for three seasons.

"Our biggest achievement is proving to ourselves that we can hang with the top teams in our divisions despite not having the all-star caliber players on our team," Holbrook coach Greg Perkins said. "We play together well and work hard to overcome our shortcomings."

Page is 31-1 despite being somewhat young.

Senior Ember Sloan (10.8 points per game) and junior Ashley Dempsey (12.6 ppg) are Page's leading scorers. Winslow likely starts the best low post player in D-III, senior Shandiin Armao (18.5 points per game, 13.8 rebounds per game), who led her team to the state title two years ago.

None of Valley Christian's players average more than 12 points per game, but the team is scoring at a high pace, averaging 65 points per game. It also launches 3-pointers at a high rate, as seven players have each attempted 48 or more threes so far.

"This is a team with no egos," Valley Christian co-head coach Scott Timmer said. "They love to share the ball."

Scottsdale Prep-Arizona Lutheran in Repeat Showdown?

By Les Willsey
AZPreps365.com

Scottsdale Prep and Arizona Lutheran have picked up where they left off last season in Division IV boys basketball. Scottsdale Prep was last year's top seed at state; Arizona Lutheran was No. 2. They followed the state tournament script presented them, meeting in the final with Arizona Lutheran prevailing, 73-65. Neither team lost a game to a D-IV opponent last year.

As the 2015 D-IV tournament begins anew Friday (Feb. 20) nothing's changed, at least at the outset. Scottsdale Prep again is the No. 1 seed and Arizona Lutheran is No. 2. Scottsdale Prep has three losses -- one to a D-I team and two to D-II squads. Arizona Lutheran has five losses -- one to a D-I school, three to D-III opponents and one to an out-of-state foe. They've dominated in their division and appear on a collision course again.

Arizona Lutheran (25-5) saw the most turnover in the past year between it and Scottsdale Prep with regard to key players. Coach Doug Meyer lost 30 points a game to graduation from Kris Lamberson and Eric Trevizo. The gap has been filled by depth and a slightly bigger year from senior Brady Cook, who has averaged nearly 19 points a game and six rebounds. No other player averages in double figures although Josiah Weinstein is close at nine per game. Eight others average between three and seven ppg.

Scottsdale Prep, coached by Chad Clum, graduated leading scorer Matt Munsil, but the Spartans featured five players a year ago who averaged between 9 and 13 points per game. Four returned this year and have helped Scottsdale Prep to a 24-3 season and are averaging in double digits -- seniors Nick Smith and Ben Arqueros and juniors Brock Petty and Dan Lybbert. Scottsdale Prep has been uncanny shooting threes as a team, making them at a 47 percent clip. It's not just one of the aforementioned players -- it's all of them.

Teams with the best shot at pulling off an upset of either Scottsdale Prep or Arizona Lutheran are Phoenix Country Day, section runner-up to Scottsdale Prep and the hefty Section II contingent led by Valley Union and Pima. Seven schools from Section II (southeastern Arizona) qualified for the 24-team field, the most of the six-section division. The only Section II team that played either Scottsdale Prep or Arizona Lutheran was Desert Christian, who faced ALA. Phoenix Country Day played both Scottsdale Prep and Arizona Lutheran during the season and lost to both after giving a good account. Phoenix Country Day fell short in overtime twice to Scottsdale Prep by four in the regular season and by eight in the section tourney final. PCD led Arizona Lutheran by seven at halftime, but got the Coyotes' attention in the second half and eventually lost 68-54. Phoenix Country Day is led by Andrew Ekmark and Nihaal Reddy.

Pima is the tourney's No. 3 seed and was the only team to best regular season, section top-dog Valley Union. Pima proved it was no fluke, beating Valley Union in the section tournament final. Pima is led by Ryan Johnson and Braven Grant. Valley Union ended up the No. 7 seed with its only losses coming against Pima. Valley Union has excellent scoring balance with Vidal Urtuzuategui, Junior Gamez, Isaac Lopez and Arthur Cummings all scoring in double figures.

The bottom half of the bracket houses five of the seven Section II qualifiers (St. David, Duncan, Desert Christian, Pima and Valley Union). St. David and Desert Christian managed to beat Pima during the regular season. The top half of the bracket has Tombstone and Willcox, both of whom could get a shot at Scottsdale Prep and Phoenix Country Day, respectively, in the second round.

The opening round of the D-IV tournament is Friday (Feb. 20), followed by the second round Saturday (Feb. 21), quarterfinals Thursday (Feb. 26), semifinals Friday (Feb. 27) and title game Saturday (Feb. 28). All games in the first two rounds will be played in Prescott Valley either at the Prescott Valley Event Center, Prescott High or Bradshaw Mountain High. Prescott Valley Event Center hosts all games from quarterfinals to completion.

No. 1 Gilbert Christian is the defending Division IV champions for a reason. At 26-3, the Knights are undefeated in their division. In fact, you would have to go all the way back to a quarterfinal loss 2013, when they were in D-III, to find their last divisional setback.

The Knights will be taking on No. 16 Duncan (18-8) in the second round this year. The Wildkats are led by junior Makenna Merrell and her 17 points a game but the Knights will bring a trio of stars in sophomore Laurn Satterwhite (15.1 ppg.), junior Cassidy Curtner (13.1) and senior Meg van Rijn (11.8).

Let's look at the rest of the second round for Division IV:

No. 2 Fort Thomas (26-4) will play No. 18 Teec Nos Pos Red Mesa (14-11) in their second round game. Fort Thomas is led by sophomore Kiara Goseyun (13.7) and freshman Kaitlynn Hinton (10.7). Red Mesa upset No. 15 Surprise Paradise Honors 56-29 in the first round.

No. 3 Valley Sanders (22-3) is riding a four-game win streak, including a sectional championship. The Pirates will be playing No. 19 Tempe Prep (12-13) in the second round. The Knights are on a bit of a roll and upset No. 14 Sells Baboquivari 40-18 in the first round.

No. 4 Paradise Valley Phoenix Country Day (23-5) will be playing No. 13 Kearny Ray (18-7) in their second round match. Junior Sky McGee and senior Claire Myers are both averaging 10 points a game for the Eagles while senior Sidney Chenoweth is leading Ray with 12 points per game.

No. 5 Tucson Desert Christian (24-7) will be playing No. 12 St. Michael (17-8) in their second round game. Look for senior Lakeisha Key, junior Hunter Begaye and junior Iyona Freeland to lead St. Michael while junior Hannah Bjorgum and junior Sarah Butler will take the lead for Desert Christian.

No. 6 Chandler Prep (13-11) will be taking on No. 11 Patagonia (21-7) in their second round game. Sophomore Karissa Edjourian is scoring 15 points a game for the Titans. Patagonia defeated No. 22 Glendale Prep 48-18 in the first round.

No. 7 Phoenix Arizona Lutheran (22-5) will be playing No. 10 Rock Point (16-5) in their second round game. Rock Point defeated No. 23 Williams 64-43 for a shot at Arizona Lutheran. Coyote senior Sarah Unkefer is scoring 13.6 points a game.

No. 8 Phoenix Christian (26-5) is led by senior Dinah Watson with over 16 points a game and she will go up against No. 9 Scottsdale Prep (27-4). The Spartans are led by sophomore Elizabeth Newman (14.7) and senior Lily MacLean (14.6).
